ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION:

This 1½ story, 5 bay wide, Greek Revival house has side gable peaks and a full-width, front porch with pillars. An entrance located in the central bay of the front facade is accented by sidelights and a transom. The windows are 6/6 double hung sash. An exterior, brick chimney marks each gable peak.

ALTERATIONS:

The brick chimneys have been stuccoed over with cement. The rear porch has been enclosed and serves as a room to pass thru in order to reach the kitchen.

OUTBUILDINGS:

N/A

LANDSCAPE FEATURES:

The house sets back far from the road on a large lot with several mature trees.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE:

This house is an excellent example of the Greek Revival style of architecture as it was applied to modest housing. It is probably also the oldest extant house in Madison. It predates the founding of Madison by several years and may have been included in the village of Lamarco.

The house was probably built when John Curran owned the property during the years 1839 to 1851.
